NEW HORMONES FOR STARTING AND TRANSPLANTING SEEDS, BULBS, PLANTS & TREES

This is a new hormone plant powder. It is a root-forming stimulant when applied to cuttings, seeds, or bulbs. Being a powder it gets its root-forming activity from the synthetic hormones or growth substances which it contains. It is very easy to use; simply dust on the seeds, bulbs, or cuttings and the most sluggish seeds, cuttings, and plants, are accelerated in growth and produce healthier root systems. This means healthier plants, more rapid growth, and earlier development. Full directions with each order. ¹/₄ oz. pkt., 25¢; 2 oz., $1.00; 1-lb. can, $5.00, postpaid.

This is vitamin hormone stimulant for plants. It invigorates old roots, multiplies new roots, and reduces wilting and loss on transplants. Transplantone is a water-soluble powder containing Vitamin B-1 and other parts of the vitamin B fractions, plus certain plant hormones which are active in root formation. These chemicals are very vital to the growth of plants, particularly of roots. Plants respond to an extra supply of "growth factors" such as those in Transplantone. Simple to use, full directions with each order. ¹/₂ oz. pkg., 25¢; 2 oz., $1.00 to $5.00, postpaid.

FRUITONE is a water-soluble powder containing several plant hormones. It was first produced for stopping the pre-harvest drop of apples, but it has since been found effective in keeping various kinds of flowers, leaves and other fruits on the tree or plant longer. The effectiveness of these hormones in stopping apple drop was shown by the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture. The flowers sprayed with Fruitone gives better set of pods especially in bad weather Increases crop 30% to 50%.

Culture—For the earliest lettuce sow seed of the young seedlings are large enough for the table they may be thinned as used. In this way space is provided for normal growth. For succession sow every two weeks.

Do not cover seed more than 1/4 to 1/2 inch deep. The plants should be thinned to 10 inches apart in the row, a light application of fertilizer such as nitrate of soda used after the plants have made some growth will be found beneficial. All our varieties of lettuce are excellent for the home garden.

Of all the edible Fruits, the Melons are the most delicious. Be sure to plant some Melons in your garden.

Culture—A rich, deep, sandy loam, well worked and highly manured with old rotten compost, is of the first importance, and on all danger of frost is over, in hills 5 to 6 feet apart each way; scatter a dozen seeds to a hill and thin to 3 or 4 plants. When they have 4 or 5 rough leaves pinch off the end of the main shoot, which will cause the lateral branches to put forth fruit sooner.

WATERMELONS

Ger.—Wassermelone

The hills should be dug about 2 feet square, 2 inches deep and half filled with well-rotted fertilizer, which must be thoroughly mixed with the soil. Plants in May, 10 seeds to a hill, and when the plants are well up, thin out to three, and pinch the ends of the growing shoots to induce early fruiting. Some of the sweetest and best Melons we have seen were produced in the latitude of 45 degrees north, consequently the Watermelon is a favorite. We have found our Northern friends can grow them successfully.

Harris Earliest—Owing to its extreme earliness it is extensively grown in the Northern States, where it is a favorite. We have known this Melon to mature as far north as Canada. It is the earliest Watermelon on the market and the sweetest. We are swepting statements, but they are true. 70 days. Pkt., 10c; oz., 25c; 1/2 lb., 75c; 1 lb., $2.50.

Ger.—Erbsen
(1 pound to 100 feet of drill—50 to 100 pounds to the acre)

Peas are quite hardy and for early crop sow as soon as the ground can be worked. Then sow in succession every two weeks until the first of August. Avoid very rich or wet, or they will run too much to vine and will not bear heavily. The dwarf varieties can be planted in rows 12 to 15 inches apart, and the tall varieties 3 feet apart. They should be kept clean of weeds. Watering is not necessary after the first of August. It is imperative to get the even soil and making several sowings of each, good Peas can be had for a long season. The pods should be kept picked; the plant will then continue to bear longer. For late sowing, use Early Dwarf varieties.

WINTER STORAGE OF VEGETABLES

STORAGE IS CHEAPER, EASIER, AND SOME SAY BETTER THAN CANNING

One of the important things to know in getting the most out of your victory garden is how to store the vegetables that you don't can. We have had lots of questions from our customers asking how to store fruits and vegetables so here are some simple, practical tips. Study them over. You'll find storage is easy, quick and in many cases cheaper and better than canning.

MOIST COOL STORAGE (30 TO 40 DEGREES)

| BEETS, CARROTS, PARSNIPS, TURNIPS, SALSIFY, WINTER RADISHES, CELERY, RUTABAGAS, and other root crops of this nature like it cool and moist. A cave or unheated cellar which most homes have is just right. It should be ventilated—with a place for new air to come in and the old to escape—and the temperature should be kept very cool as near to 34 to 36 degrees as possible. A good thermometer is a big help and a little regulating of the windows doesn't take much time and pays big dividends. Keep cool and moist. Be sure all crops, before storage, are well matured, but not woody, and free of insect injury, handling injury or disease. One bad vegetable can spoil others and you should examine your storage from time to time and take out any that show signs of spoiling. Store in baskets, boxes, or bins and cover lightly with soil or sand to exclude air to prevent drying out. Keep very cool and moist. Examine for shrivelling and, if discovered, add moisture. APPLES and Pears, CABBAGE and POTATOES—Keep very cool—just above freezing—and in a part of your cellar or cave where the moisture is just enough to keep leaves from shrivelling. Pears are usually wrapped and apples can be. Store in baskets or boxes. Do not cover with soil. Cabbages are usually stored on shelves and potatoes in slatted well ventilated boxes.

PIT STORAGE

If you haven't room in your cellar or cave for the vegetables named above you can easily make a pit storage in your garden. Find a spot in your garden where soil is light or sandy and well drained. Dig shallow pit 8 to 10 inches deep. Dig a shallow ditch around it to drain off melting snows or rain. Line pit with about 6 inches straw, hay, or leaves. Place products to be stored in conical heap in pit. Cover with layer of 6 to 8 inches straw. Cover straw with soil to hold it in place and shed water. As colder weather comes add more soil. If snow is present all winter 6 inches soil should be enough. If winter is open, more may be needed or better, another layer of straw, hay or corn stalks is a good idea. Leave tuft of hay or straw sticking through the top for ventilation. Do not put vegetables in until cold weather. Govern size of pit by quantity you wish to remove at one time. Better to have several small pits so you can take everything in one pit out at one time, which saves time in winter.

DRY STORAGE

(For Onions—Dry Beans—Squash—Pumpkins—Sweet Potatoes)

ONIONS—like a dry cool storage. Store away when well ripened. Cure thoroughly by spreading in thin layer and a dry place, or in dry loam or sand. Cover tops when curing is finished. Store in shallow, well ventilated crates. Storage should be cool (35 degrees) and dry. Cellar is not good place. Don't let freeze.

DRY BEANS—Treat for weevil before storing by placing in air-tight container. Put carbon bisulphide in saucer and place on top of beans. Put cover on tightly and gas will be made that will go down through beans killing weevil. You can buy carbon bisulphide at local drug store and for barrel size container a couple tablespoonsful is enough. Carbon bisulphide is dangerous near fire so be careful. Leave in container 48 hours and then store in dry place at low (just above freezing) temperature. Weevils will not multiply at low temperatures.

SQUASHES, PUMPKINS, SWEET POTATOES—Like warm, dry storage. Should be well ripened when put in storage. Handle carefully to prevent bruising. Don't expose to freezing or even frost. Cure Sweet Potatoes for 10 days in 80 to 90-degree heat then put with pumpkins and squash at about 55 degrees. Furnace room or bare room or closet is about right. Air should be dry.

This is a vitamin hormone stimulant for plants. It invigorates old roots, multiplies new roots, and reduces wilting and loss on transplants. Transplantone is a water-soluble powder containing Vitamin B-1 and other parts of the vitamin B fractions, plus certain plant hormones which are active in root formation. These chemicals are very vital to the growth of plants, particularly of roots. Trees respond to an extra supply of "growth factors" such as those in Transplantone. Simple to use, full directions with each order, ½-oz. pkg., 25c; 3-oz. can, $1.00; 1-lb. can, $4.00, postpaid.

WINTERING ROSES. After the first good heavy frost, bundle the branches together, cut them back to about 18 to 20 inches, mound earth around the plants up to 6 or 8 inches, or higher if practical, spread manure in the hollows between plants. Later on, when the ground is frozen, add a covering of leaves, straw, salt, hay or cornstalks to keep the ground frozen and as a protection against sun and wind. In the spring, remove covering a little at a time, first straw and leaves, then the coarse part of the manure, and finally level the soil when danger of hard spring frost is past.

Climbers winter well if taken down from their support and laid flat on the ground. Mulch as above.

ROSE JARS—By Mace Craft—Pot Pouri at its best

These rose jars are spun on the potter's wheel and signed by the skilled craftsman who made them.

The fragrance is very carefully blended only from pure flower oils, rare spices, and especially cured rose petals.

Lift the lid for a few minutes each day and bring into your home the soft, blended fragrance from the world's flower gardens... a gift of lasting pleasure.

The jar colors are glazed rust, two-toned Chinese (brown and sea-green), honey yellow, lapis blue, matt stone blue-green, green, and soft unglazed wedgewood blue with a white band pattern... a color to fit every taste. Due to wartime dye restrictions we may be out of a certain color and reserve the right to substitute. (They are all beautiful.)

Each jar comes in a gift box; wrapped and mailed to you prepaid—$3.50 Each.
